PROSPECTS DO NOT LOOK VERY PROMISING

Labor Officials Would Avert
Strike of Shopmen.

CRISIS IN THE NEXT FEW DAYS

Vice President Kruttschnitt of the Harriman Lines Declares He Will Refuse to Receive Officials Who Represent Dissatisfied Shopmen. Labor Delegation, Traveling Toward the Pacific Coast, Would Talk Over the Men's Demands.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The labor situation on the Harriman railroads is expected to reach a crisis in the next four or five days. One delegation of national labor officials is hurrying toward San Francisco to confer with Vice President Julius Kruttschnitt in an effort to avert a strike of the shopmen and another is here to take up the demands of the Illinois Central men.

No strike will be called until after the conference with Mr. Kruttschnitt, but unless he instructs the managers of the different roads to meet the union committees, it was said the men will walk out without any further parleying.

According to a San Francisco dispatch, Vice President Kruttschnitt would not say whether he would recognize the different leaders of shopmen as federation officials, but he declared he would refuse to see officials who represented dissatisfied shopmen.

SCORE OF DEAD ARE BURIED

Scenes in the Stricken Town Heart-rending. Relatives of the Victims of the Morgan Opera House Disaster Walking the Streets Wringing Their Hands and Tearing Their Hair—Search Instituted For the Person Who Yelled "Fire."

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—The scenes in this little city today are heartrending. The people have not yet recovered from the effects of the Morgan opera house horror, in which 26 persons met death and at least 40 others were injured. Frantic persons walk the streets, wringing their hands and tearing their hair. There are 32 persons hurt in the stampede now under the doctors' care. More than 10 others are known to be hurt. Most of the dead have been identified and the bodies removed to their homes. A score of funerals will take place this afternoon. The coroner's jury arrived in Canonsburg from Washington, Pa., and began an investigation.

Streetscars and trains brought in thousands. Many of them made a rush for the opera house to search for souvenirs stickpins, finger rings, bracelets, watch charms, wearing apparel, and even picked up human fingers inside and outside of the fatal building. Several riots took place among the souvenir seekers and the police were called out to quell the disturbances.

The police declare that they have sufficient evidence that the cry of "fire" which caused the panic was emitted by two boys in the gallery. Violence is feared if they are captured.

John McCullough, the moving picture operator, had just thrown the title of the next series of pictures on the screen, "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," when the film exploded and his asbestos cabinet was filled with flames. The audience was totally unaware of the accident and the operator heroically fought down and extinguished the flames. But he made the fatal mistake of throwing open the doors of his cabinet, and the smoke rushed out into the audience room.

THE CRUCIAL HOURS IN THE BEATTIE CASE TRYING TO FORTIFY DEFENSE

Attorneys Go Over the Many Details of the Defense.

CONFERENCE IS HELD IN JAIL

Heaviest Weight of the Prosecution to Be Hurlled Against the Prisoner the Next Few Days—State Hopes to Explode the Suspect's Story on Which the Defense Is Guilt—Important Witnesses About to Be Called by the State.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 28.—At a prolonged conference between Henry C. Beattie, Jr., and his attorneys, the latter went over with the young prisoner the infinite details of the issue which means life or death with him. The conference was designed to fortify Beattie against the ordeal of the next two days, when the heaviest weight of the prosecution will be hurled against him.

Before the prosecution rests its case there will be much grave concern in Beattie's mind. He must know that all his lawyers have to build on in his defense is his story of a tall, whiskered man suddenly stepping out of the shadows of the forest on Midlothian pike and, without reason, almost without words, as Beattie told the story, slaying his wife as she sat by his side in an automobile. Such of the prosecution's case is before the court already as to indicate that when Beattie's counsel attempts to defend his story, which is the only line of defense that seems to be indicated now, they will be undertaking the most difficult task in the recent history of Virginia jurisprudence.

As the case stands before the jury at this beginning of the second week of the trial, the prosecution has completed its task of pointing out the alleged contradictions and incongruities in Beattie's story of the murder. Today witnessed the first step in constructive testimony. This was the introduction of evidence in an effort to fix the purchase of the shotgun which is claimed to be the weapon of assault upon Henry Beattie. The third and last step in the prosecution will be to establish the motive for the crime which the commonwealth seeks to fix upon him.

Upon Paul Beattie the defense will bend all of its energies of cross-examination, for upon him the conviction of Henry largely rests.

Mrs. Paul Beattie will probably be another witness for the commonwealth. She will tell how, on the day after the murder, when the shotgun was found on the railroad tracks where they cross the turnpike, her husband came to her and confided his suspicions.

Body Found In Dense Thicket

Four Persons Charged With the Brutal Murder of a Farmer.
Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 28.—Discovery of the body of James L. Miller, 65, a well-to-do McMinn county farmer, secreted in a thicket near his home has developed the story of a brutal crime. Charged with the murder are G. W. Ross, one of Miller's tenants, his wife, Thomas Senter and Roscoe Miller, son of the dead man. One of them is said to have confessed. Rose, it is charged, prompted and planned the crime for vengeance. Miller recently having prosecuted him for stealing corn. It is said he forced the son, who is rather half-witted, into the crime with threats.

Farmer Is Killed In a Fray

Eaton, O., Aug. 28.—Frank Avery, 40, a well-known truck farmer living eight miles south of Eaton, died from the effects of blows of an ax handle wielded by Charles Price, 30, a farmer living eight miles north of Eaton. Price has made a confession to Sheriff Boner, alleging that Avery struck at him first. It is said that Price, at the time of the assault, was intoxicated. The inquest will be held late this afternoon. A post-mortem showed that Avery's skull was crushed by a blow.

Now Up To Tariff Board

Taft Willing to Recommend the Use of the Pruning Knife.

Hamilton, Mass., Aug. 28.—President Taft, in his address here, scored the insurgent members of the Republican party in congress and the Democrats who combined to revise several schedules of the present tariff at the special session of congress just closed. He singled out Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, Speaker Clark and Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee as leaders of the attempted revision and gave them special mention. Several times he referred to Mr. La Follette and mentioned the other insurgent senators more as the latter's associates. He indicated that he regarded the proposed revision as injurious and dangerous to business, but made it plain that if the tariff board in December reports that downward revision of the cotton and wool schedules should be made, he will recommend the use of the pruning knife.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, as the above picture shows, is hale and hearty and apparently thoroughly enjoys life in his seventy-second year. The picture was made recently at Mr. Rockefeller's country home at Pocantico Hills, on the Hudson river, just north of New York city. Mr. Rockefeller has recently changed his attitude toward newspaper photographers, and when he appears in public now he readily poses for pictures when asked. Time was when he shied at a camera as he would at a bomb. Some years ago Mr. Rockefeller was in bad health, and it was reported that he had said he would "give $1,000,000 for a new stomach." Golf and outdoor exercise have seemingly given the oil magnate the new stomach he wanted.

Former Congressman Dead.

Lancaster, O., Aug. 28.—Judge C. D. Martin, a prominent attorney, is dead. He served one term in congress, from 1859 to 1861, and also was a member of the supreme court commission in 1880 to assist in disposing of the overflow business before that body. Judge Martin was 82 years old and leaves a widow and three children. After graduating at Kenyon college, Gambier, he came to this city and has been prominent in politics since.

Steuenville, O., Aug. 28.—Ninety seven years after his birth and 42 years after his death, Steuenville citizens will honor the birthplace of their most illustrious son, Edwin M. Stanton, the war secretary, by unveiling a bronze statue in front of the courthouse, the scene of his local forensic triumph before he went to serve the nation. It will be unveiled Sept. 7, during a home-coming week celebration.

Wm. Lee Confesses Triple Murder

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 28.—William Lee, 22, confessed that he murdered his father, Richard Lee, his mother and younger brother, Clarence, and then set fire to the house in the hope of concealing the crime, at Evansville early Thursday morning. Lee said that his motive was anger because his parents would not consent to his marriage with Nina Taylor of Newburg. Lee was taken to the state reformatory at Jeffersonville to prevent possible violence.

The Ohio State Fair Is Now in Full Blast

Opening Day Sees Exhibits in Their Places.

Columbus, O., Aug. 28.—The Ohio state fair was opened formally today, the thousands of visitors finding all exhibits in place and the grounds and buildings in trim condition. According to the fair officials, there are more exhibits on the ground than ever before. A $10,000 pyrotechnic display will be an evening feature during the week.

National Guardsmen, who are to act as policemen during the fair, and farm boys, who are to help "put" seedles run the big fair, pitched their camps on the lawn near the Grant cottage. The Xenia boys also will be encamped near by. The camp is to be one of the attractions of the fair, it being Adjutant General Weybroch's claim it is a model outfit.

J. H. Burrell, national good roads expert, who is to help State Highway Commissioner James R. Marker and the Ohio Good Roads Federation show Ohio farmers how roads should be built, is here. He and Marker have their big exhibit ready.

Some of the candidates will be alive to this opportunity and make their work count for the greatest possible number of votes.

Claim Murder Jones Was Seen in Reesville

Sunday morning Walter Glass, of Reesville, Clinton county, telephoned to the authorities in this city that Charles Jones, colored, wanted in Cincinnati for murdering his wife and another party, was in that village and wanted to know what action to take.

Glass gave a minute description of the negro which tallied with that sent out by the Cincinnati police department, with the exception of the scar in the ear which is said to be very noticeable. The man had not been placed under arrest at the time, but was hanging around a restaurant in the village, and had made the remark that he was afraid to pass through Fayette county, as "they wanted him up here."

Mayor Allen informed Glass that they had better induce the fellow to stay in Reesville until the marshal at Sabina could take charge of him. The marshal was called, but refused to make the arrest, and Glass again called this city and was told to have Sheriff Osborn place the fellow under arrest and hold him until his identity could be ascertained by communicating with the Cincinnati authorities.

Whether the sheriff succeeded in landing the man, or whether the fellow proved to be Jones, has not been

Empire Theater Vaudeville Will be Opened This Week

Beginning with Thursday night of this week the Empire Opera House will be used for vaudeville on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of each week.

Mr. Chas. Johnson, proprietor of the Wonderland theater, will have charge of the vaudeville, and only high class acts from the Gus Sun circuit will be put on. The same talent will play here that plays in Springfield, and other cities like Columbus, Toledo, Cincinnati, so it will be seen that the best talent booked by Sun will be offered the citizens of Washington.

Changes will be made at the Empire and everything necessary done looking to the comfort of those who attend. Vaudeville three nights each week is expected to make a "hit" among Washington citizens, especially when it is known that only high class acts will be offered.

A packed house is expected to greet the first performance Thursday night. Announcement will be made in the advertising columns of this paper. Watch for it.

Would Honor Old Maids

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 28.—"Honor all old maids, for they are worth more in push, in ability and in character than the mollycoddles they are replacing right and left every day." This is the creed established by Henry Andre, secretary of a local manufacturing firm, for his new organization will be established in 40 countries on the globe. The new body, he says, will take the form of a new seven-day-a-week religion which will spread everywhere, so that everybody may learn its doctrines. Mr. Andre says the organization is not to include suffrage clubs and sewing circles, but rather is to be preached to the men and to be preached by men. He says that he is to be the leader of men who appreciate the worth of the much abused spinsters.

Some person saw the smoke and yelled "fire," and the 300 members of the audience turned in their seats, saw the smoke, jumped to their feet and made a frantic rush for the one doorway leading to the narrow, eight-foot stairway, piling down on 200 people crowded in the passageway, awaiting the end of the performance to take the places of those who had seen the show.

Immediately the narrow stairway was packed and jammed 10 feet high with the dead and dying, the shrieking injured and the screaming unhurt, while the crowds of townspeople rushed to the scene and added their maddened yelling to the din of disaster and death.

As the injured were carried from the building they were attended on the sidewalk by physicians. Every physician for miles around had been summoned. Mrs. Minnie Lemon of Lawrenceville, Ind., who was one of those who escaped the stampede, is a raving maniac in the Canonsburg hospital as a result of her experience.

Many of the mutilated, all but dismembered bodies were gathered together at the main entrance of the building and, followed by dazed, grief-stricken crowds, were taken to the morgue.

The catastrophe fell most heavily upon the young. The sight of little boys and girls carried out dead, dying, groaning and calling for their parents, was heartrending. One after another the little bodies were released from the mass of flesh and blood that marked the awful vortex of the mad, death-charged stampede.

Prisoners Are Released Could Not Pay the Fine

Two prisoners, confined in the county jail by B. & O. detective Kennedy, and who were arraigned before Justice T. N. Craig and fined $5 and costs for train riding, were released from the county jail Monday because they could not pay their fines.

This action was due to a conference held by Prosecuting Attorney Pope Gregg, and Justice Craig, and it was deemed advisable to cut out the expense of keeping the two "dead ones". Where the men pay their fines the county gets the money, but where the men are not able to pay their fines and do not go to the works, the county is the loser. If they are sent to the works, the county pays for it.

This is now the center for all bums to be lodged in jail by the B. & O. detectives, and between those who pay, and those who do not, the county "breaks even". Previous to the consolidation of the C. H. & D. and B. & O. all train riders, or bums were taken to Wilmington, but now they are placed in the local cooler.

Petition is Presented To Improve Big Ditch

At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners Saturday afternoon, a petition for altering, deepening, widening and repairing the big Citlish ditch from the line of John Wilson and Martha Eastman to the line of George Swope and Alex Porter, was read for the first time. The ditch is in Paint township.

The ditch, which is one of the largest in Fayette county, has been tilled along the point mentioned, but owing to improper care, has become clogged so that it is almost useless, and during times of heavy rains, becomes a raging torrent. The ditch will be viewed September 15th.

At the same meeting action was taken for constructing a cement culvert under the road at a point near the Walnut Hill school house just south of Bookwalter. This culvert is 46 feet long.

Judy Released Pays Old Fine

Manaford Judy, held for non-payment of an old fine of $50 and costs for disturbing a religious meeting several months ago, was released Saturday afternoon when arrangements were made for paying his fine.

Judy and another young man, it is claimed, are the two fellows who assaulted Abe Marion on John street last Tuesday night, knocking him down. It is alleged that Marion was aware who the two fellows were, and that he was in part responsible for the assault. Whether the two men will be required to face this charge is not known.

"St. Clair" Married Gets in Trouble

Claude E. Lake, playing St. Clair in the Williamsport "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show which played one night in this city last spring, is in trouble due to marrying a young girl in Galesburg, Ill., where he is said to have sworn that his bride was 19 years of age, when she was only 17, and the girl's brother has taken the matter up.

Lake, it is claimed, is a very bad character, and an adventurer of considerable note, and has been in trouble at his home at Williamsport, and a report from Galesburg states that he will be required to answer to the charge of perjury.

Trouble Brewing At Jeffersonville

Within the next few days, according to report, a case of a very sensational character will be filed in court in which some prominent people are liable to be involved.

At the present time, according to report, the matter is receiving the attention of attorneys in this city, and details are being worked out toward bringing the suit unless a compromise is made.

Woman Charges Husband With Various Crimes

In a suit for divorce, alimony, custody of child and restoration to her maiden name of Olive Zimmerman, Mrs. Olive Collier charges her husband, Richard B. Collier with extreme cruelty, gross neglect of duty, and slander of the most damaging character.

Mrs. Collier alleges that she was married to the defendant on January 30, 1907, and that one child, Evelyn Louise, aged 30 months, was born of the marriage. She says that her husband has been cruel to, cursed and abused her, and accused her of entertaining intimate and unlawful relations with a man of the neighborhood, which charge was utterly false and which damaged her good name and caused the neighbors to shun her and not associate with her.

She further accuses the defendant of gross neglect of herself and child, and of spending his money in riotous living, and because of these things she asks that a decree of divorce be given her and that the custody of their child be awarded to her; that she be paid suitable alimony and restored to her maiden name.

Tragedy Is End Of Quarrel

Two Men Engage in Quarrel In a Cambridge Boarding House.

Cambridge, O., Aug. 28.—While eating breakfast at a boarding house here John Blackinsop and John Byers became engaged in a quarrel, which ended in Byers' death. During the altercation Blackinsop drew a revolver and shot at Byers, but other boarders separated them. Apparently pacified, they were both let go, when Blackinsop followed Byers to his room and shot him through the heart. He dropped his weapon and escaped to the woods south of Cambridge. The quarrel was over a trivial matter.

Randolph Leads Chief a Chase

Russel Randolph, arrested some three weeks ago for pilfering goods from the Van Tuyle Novelty store, and whose release from the work house for stealing harness was a recent important event in his life, showed up in this city Monday morning and was spied by Chief Devaney. The spying was mutual, and Randolph did not await an invitation to dig, but started out on a merry sprint closely followed by Chief Devaney, and the chase led from East street into the "Hell's Half Acre" neighborhood, where Randolph succeeded in dodging about the alleys until he evaded his pursuer, and then hit a merry clip toward the tall timber along Paint creek.

SOME APPLE SHOW.

Twenty thousand dollars in cash premiums, in addition to gold and silver trophies, will be awarded in competitions, free and open to all, at the Fourth National Apple Show and Harvest festival in Spokane the last week in November. Plans have been completed to exhibit more than 2,000,000 of the highest grade commercial apples grown in the United States and Canada in a temporary structure covering four and a half acres of ground, the features being 15 or more full carload displays.

Arrangements are under way for a series of growers' conventions and country life meetings, at which some of the foremost experts in the country will discuss the educational phases of apple culture, dealing also with the problems of marketing the orchard products at home and abroad. Practical orchardists will give demonstrations of modern orcharding, from the breaking of the raw land to harvesting the crop, and introducing features designed to assist producers in securing adequate returns from the land.

Five experts of international reputation will be engaged to pass judgment on the various exhibits, ranging from carloads to single plates of five apples. The sweepstakes contest has been eliminated this year and in its stead there will be contests with added prizes and premiums on the standard commercial varieties.

The management of the National Apple Show has received a fund of $35,000, subscribed by citizens of Spokane to carry on the exposition, which is not a money-making enterprise in any sense of the term, and it is estimated by the Secretary that fully $15,000 more will be expended in staging of the pageants in connection with the harvest festival in the business district during the week of the apple show.

Modern Mother

Her Duty Is Merely to Take Care of House

By LADY MACLAREN

MOTHERS will come gradually to recognize the new requirements of the home, and when they cater for it will learn to go oftener to the newspaper and more seldom to the butcher.

The first fact to be grasped is that each home must not stand alone, but that it must unite with neighboring hands so as to obtain without effort the best results of civilization.

Once the material side of life is dominated there will be leisure for the mental and the spiritual to assume their rightful place. The home will feel its dependence on the greater whole, it will become more responsive to every wave of public feeling, more alive to every movement of the great public.

A Greek philosopher has advised that "If any man has two loaves, let him sell one and buy lilies, for the soul has its needs as well as the body." This is the kind of catering for the housewives of the future, to collect the flowers of heart and mind and soul to deck the board, so that the breadwinner, worn with the toils of the day, will find more refreshment than in the present monotony of mutton.

What elements in the home as it exists today can be dispensed with? The departments sentenced to disappear are so many that it might be well to consider how much of the home would be left should these changes be carried out.

The basement would be gone with its scullery, its coal cellar and its dust bin.

The servants' hall would disappear, and, greatest change of all, the troops of servants would be gone.

Upstairs the dining room would be gone, and the drawing room also. All the spare bedrooms would be gone, and most of the servants' bedrooms.

What, then, would remain.

Father's sitting room would be left. Mother's sitting room would be left. And, best of all, the children would remain, taking their right place in the house, the first place, each with a private room always well warmed and lighted, and designed for rest, meditation or private work, places where young minds would have that space, leisure and solitude which induce true growth.

The housewife would be a housewife no longer. After all, it is the man who wants a wife, not the house, and the children need a wise mother more than a housewife. It is the greedy home that has taken her from them and given them only the tired dregs of her mind instead of its best work.

Obviously some specialist instructors are necessary. A child not only requires love but scientific knowledge of the processes of life from all its attendants.

Later an insight into the child's mind will be needed. His faculties need to be studied. The musician, the artist, the mathematician, the scholar must train him. He wants not the influence of one mind alone, but the acquired experience of many minds.

These teachers it should be the mother's business to provide, and all other objects of her life should be second to this.

Women must move the public mind. They must sit on public governing boards. They must lay their hands on the governing machinery of the country, which is the true way, the legitimate way, indeed, the only effective way of getting anything properly done, even for the home.

Got His Wish.

Prof. Edgar L. Larkin, the noted astronomer, was discussing marriage at a dinner in San Francisco. Prof. Larkin believes that it is criminal to continue for life marriages that are unhappy.

"Why condemn," he said, with a grim laugh, "men and women to such misery as afflicts our mutual friends, the Blanks? We have all mutual friends, in the Blank's position."

"At the height of their usual quarrel the other day Mrs. Blank choked back a sob and said, reproachfully:

"I was reading one of your old letters today, James, and you said in it that you would rather live in endless torment with me than in bliss by yourself."

"Well, I got my wish," Blank growled.

In the Waist.

She was examining her new waist by the aid of the big mirror. "Dear me!" she exclaimed, pettishly, "I can't see anything pretty in this."

"Well, I can," chuckled the young man who was sitting on the sofa. "Really? And what do you see pretty in it?"

"Why, you."

And then she blushed and said she thought the waist was just too lovely for anything.

They Go Together.

"Henry," said the young wife, who had taken up physical culture, "how do you think I am built?"

"My dear," replied her husband fondly, "you are built like a watch."

"Thank you, Henry. And Henry?"

"Well?"

"If—if I am built like a watch don't you think I should have a few jewels?"

And then Henry frowned and said the man who compliments a woman is an idiot.

Long Deferred.

Meeker—"Yes, I'm perfectly willing for my wife to have the last word, but—"

Bleeker—"Then what's the trouble?"

Meeker—"The trouble is she hasn't reached it yet, although we have been married seventeen years."

POETRY FOR TODAY

THE FAMILY PICNIC.

Get the hammer ready, Martha;
Fill it full of things to eat.
I am getting restless, sister—
Sort of crazy with the heat.

Let us don some coolish raiments—
Picnic duds—you know the sort.
I am melting, slowly melting;
Every day I sweat a quart.

I am hungry for a picnic;
I am pining for the woods.
Give me lakes and birds and sunshine,

Flowers and breezes—they're the goods.

Dress the kids up in their rompers.
Then you won't have long to wait
Only while I hunt my tackle.

And go out and dig some bait.

No, don't wear your Easter bonnet.
Goodness, Martha, that's your best!

You'd be sore to have some bluejay
Swipe your headgear for a nest.

Dress just like a gypsy lady—
Free and easy—yes, you can.

I will wear my fishing outfit—
Look like some one's hired man.

What's the odds? Let's just be happy

Let's forget we have a care.

Good-by home, and kiss and kitty;
Get out in the fragrant air.

Get out where the woods are calling.
In the country, anyhow,

Where a fellow gets so hungry
He could almost eat a cow.

Now we're ready, Golly, Martha,
Never saw you look so fine.

And the kiddies—well, by ginger,
See their happy faces shine.

Clamber in the livery wagon—
Cost me ten plunks for the day.

I don't care—it's worth a hundred—
Cheap at that—we're off to play.

Giddap, Dobbin! Everybody's
Happy, smiling, full of glee.

Ain't you glad you're living, Martha?

Ain't it bully to be free?
Glory be and hallelujah!

Feel just like I'd got to sing.
Picnic—fishing—basket dinner;

Guess we ain't the whole blamed thing!

Cherry Pie Parfait

Stone the cherries. For the crust mix lightly but thoroughly the flour and a pinch of salt with one-third of its bulk of shortening. Add a small quantity water enough to make a quite stiff dough. Roll over pie tin with crust. For each pie mix two tablespoonfuls of flour with one cupful of sugar thoroughly sprinkling half of this over the bottom crust. This prevents the soaking of the lower crust. Then add the cherries generously, sprinkling the rest of the sugar and flour on top of the cherries. Roll and place the top crust, after dampening edges of lower crust with water. Press the edges of the two crusts firmly together and loosen the edge of the bottom crust from the pan. This prevents its separating from the upper crust and allowing the juices to escape. All berry pies are best made in this way also.

Canned Strawberries

Strawberries canned by following method keep both color and flavor: Have fresh and sound berries. Wash by plunging one box at a time in large pan of water. Lift out and stem. This does not lose the juice. Use several small pans, as the weight of many berries crushes them. Place one quart sugar in each pan, only using enough water to melt it. When this boils, drop in gently enough berries for one can. Boil five minutes and place in glass jar, previously washed and warmed. Cover with thin layer of paraffine wax and seal. They continue to cook after canned and do not shrink like ones cooked longer.

To Wash An Umbrella

If your umbrella falls into the mud and you cannot brush the dirt off, the best way is to wash it with a soap lather. First grease the inside wires to prevent them from rusting; then proceed to wash the cover, scrubbing the dirty parts with a soft brush. Next rinse it with cold water, inside and out, and hang in the sun to dry. The umbrella must be kept open all the time. It will look quite new when done.

EVERYBODY'S BIBLE QUESTION BOX

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED IN THESE COLUMNS, OR BY MAIL IF SENT TO THE EDITOR OF THIS JOURNAL.

Q.—Can the soul die? I read in the Bible such expressions as these, "The soul that sinneth it shall die" (Ezekiel xviii, 4), "Every soul that will not hear the voice of that Prophet shall be DESTROYED from amongst the people (Acts iii, 23) etc., yet on every hand the doctrine of "The immortality of the soul" is being taught and nearly every one believes that the soul cannot die, but is doomed to live on forever. I am much confused in regard to this matter.

Answer.—Some years ago this question was discussed by theologians and others, and at that time, having the general thought or teaching in mind, which was supposed to be the truth, many were led to investigate along this line and were vastly surprised to find that the doctrine of the immortality of the soul is entirely of heathen origin and nowhere taught in the Bible. Under the glare of the increasing light of our day many ministers have come to a recognition of this fact and are now engaged in preaching that which the Scriptures teach, viz., that it is the soul (the living, intelligent being) which enters into death. The soul is "asleep," "dead" and will remain in that condition of unconsciousness until resuscitated at the time of the resurrection of the dead. Immortality is conditional. By examining the following Scriptures it will be seen at once that immortality is a reward that will be conferred upon those who are faithful and obedient to the commands of the Lord and who prove their worthiness to receive this "Crown of Life" (Romans ii, 7; I Corinthians xv, 53, 54). See also I Tim. vi, 15, 16.

IN THE SPORTING WORLD

TWO FAST GAMES BETWEEN FAST TEAMS RESULTS IN EVEN BREAK

The big crowd of baseball fans who journeyed to Millwood Park yesterday afternoon were well repaid as to sizzling games of baseball played between two evenly matched teams of fast young amateurs were played.

In the first game the local boys proved superior, but only after ten innings of the fastest kind of baseball was played and then by a very narrow margin.

In the second the visitors finished with the larger number of tallies and both teams were compelled to recognize the superiority of their opponents.

Every man on both of the contending teams was keyed up to the limit full of pep and played his position like a veteran. There were no bonehead plays on either side, senseless kicking was conspicuous by its absence and high-class base ball was chucked into every exciting inning of the fast play.

The crowd inside and out was estimated by conservative people at 1000 people.

The excitement at the finish of the first game when Reed landed on one of the fast high ones for a clean three-bagger, putting the game on ice for the locals, has never been exceeded on the local field.

For the first six innings of the first game only 18 Washington players went to bat, each man who stepped to the plate going out in order. The score of the first game:

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

How to Shampoo the Hair.

For a shampoo take a cake of pure white soap, place it in a pitcher and pour a pint of boiling water over it. Agitate for ten minutes and then remove the soap. When the mixture is sufficiently cool it is ready for use. In giving a shampoo much depends on thoroughly rinsing the hair. Use plenty of warm water. The use of a bath spray when convenient is an effectual means of ridding the scalp of the shampoo mixture.

STATE FAIR NOTES

RIBBONS AND WINNERS.

High Water Marks and Records Established—The Ohio State Fair Next Week—Railroads Preparing for Outpouring of People—Every Part of the Nation Contributes to Big Exposition.

One thousand exhibitors and twenty thousand entries insure the greatest State Fair ever held in America. Five thousand more entries than ever before made. Ohio people are loyal to the Big Show at Columbus. The crowds will come early in the week. Everything will be in order the first day. Old and young will swell the throng. Agriculture has come to the front and is carrying the flag. The overflow exhibits in the live stock departments will be taken care of in several monster tents. Outside ground space never before used will be occupied by exhibits. The Good Roads Exhibit made by the State and National governments will be highly educational and reports indicate that many county and township road officials will take advantage of its lessons. The great strife between the owners of the different breeds of swine has resulted in almost twice the number of entries ever before made. The Berkshire people lead in point of having the greatest number of entries.

More than ever before have fathers having the boys from the farm attend realized the good that would result in this Exposition. Sunday schools, Young Men's Christian Associations, and civic organizations are encouraging their young people to come. The State Fair grounds will present a beautiful picture this year. The beautifying effect of flowers and shrubbery will be seen.

SCHOOLS INTERESTED.

Since Agriculture is to be taught in public schools the teachers are taking great interest, and discussing this subject and the State Fair at their institutes. Nearly one thousand dollars is the sum being spent in the Horticultural Hall on a model landscape, which alone would pay every home-maker to visit the Fair to see. Every teacher ought to see this new feature.

LADIES' DAY.

Monday, August 28th, is Ladies' Day. Thousands of women will be admitted free of charge. The Granges in many places have discussed the value of the State Fair to the ladies. The Woman's Building has more than twice as many entries as ever before. Home is not only a place for a man to eat and sleep and wash, but it should be Home, Sweet Home in every sense of the word. Sweetheart, wife and mother should not be kept at home. They will enjoy and get as much good from the Fair as any one.

FEATURES OF APIARY, NURSERY AND ORCHARD EXHIBIT.

The exhibit will consist of mounted specimens of insects and diseases commonly affecting orchards, small fruits, nurseries, shade trees and farm crops; material showing injury caused by these pests. Samples of spraying material, models of spray pumps, equipment, mixing tanks; models of limbs showing proper methods of pruning; charts and enlarged photographs showing different development of insects, pruning, spraying and other orchard practices; microscopic mounts of common pests; an illuminated case with lantern slides showing many things of interest to orchardist and farmer. Infected nursery stock showing diseases and insects to guard against. Model bee hive, bee tools, comb infected by foul brood, diseases, different races of bees; literature of the Division.

OHIO'S GOVERNOR A STATE FAIR BOO. STER-HE COMMENTS ON ITS VALUE AND ITS LESSONS.

Governor Harmon is in line with other leading men of the country in urging greater interest in agriculture. He will visit the State Fair this year. He urges everybody to attend. Recently when asked to express his views he said: "A state fair, wisely administered, is a commendable enterprise for any commonwealth to promote and support," said the governor recently. "Competition and a prize are arguments which induce the best there is in man or beast. We make our best efforts when there is some goal to win."

"A state fair is the one event of the year at which all who come may see the finished products of soil, shop, factory and the breeder's art."

The skill and handiwork of mothers, wives and daughters are in evidence. The newest and the best of everything is compared and contrasted with the old and gives a teaching value to all parts of the exposition. "Our people are justly proud of the Ohio State Fair. It is entitled to the good will and helping hand of all citizens. Last year I spent parts of several days attending it and for the first time learned its magnitude and scope. Its battle line is widely flung, as the exhibits had been assembled from many states. I found the exhibitors aggressive and in touch with the needs of the country and that, as a rule, they were foremost in their lines of work."

"There is an awakening in Ohio along agricultural lines, and I bespeak for the coming fair a large attendance. By improved methods, experience and experiment the farmer is winning greater rewards for his labor and more respect for himself than ever before. This is as it should be. The producer should have as much profit and enjoyment out of life as the consumer."

"Today the farmer is standing at the threshold of a new agricultural era. To live up to his possibilities he should arrange to attend agricultural meetings, farmers' institutes and fairs. It is worth while for everybody to learn more about the business in which they are engaged, and the state fair is an opportune place to do it. A visit thereto, by old and young will be not only profitable, but enjoyable."

AMUSEMENT BEST IN AMERICA.

The Spectacular Fireworks rendering of Perry's Victory on Lake Erie in front of grand stand every evening will please all. The special feature acts will be high-class in all respects. The band concerts, day and night, will produce a better musical program than ever before given on the grounds. Two of the finest regimental military and two other bands will put music in the air all the time. The old mid-way shows have been discontinued. A few high-class entertainments have been secured, among which are "Mazeppa" the wonderful trained horse, fourteen trained bears, the "BEE WIZARD" The astonishing feats performed by a man under water in a glass tank, the big steer, the big horse, and high-class moving picture shows.

THE SHADOW OF THE CROSS.

This wonderful picture has been secured from the National Capital, Washington. It will be shown in the picturesque auditorium just off the Woman's Building. A small charge will be made to see it, but all those who are dissatisfied may have their money back. The picture is a mystery. It arouses curiosity and makes those who see it think of the supernatural. This auditorium will be a quiet resting place and you may sit and gaze at this marvelous work of art until you are rested and refreshed.

THE SILVER TICKET—STATE FAIR PASSES ABOLISHED.

For years the issuing of free passes has been a curse to State and County Fairs. The Ohio State Board has received many compliments for having voted to abolish this pernicious system. Those who could best afford to pay often received the favors. The ticket of admission this year will be a silver half dollar for old and a silver quarter dollar for young folks. Bring your ticket with you. Have your piece of silver ready when you come to the gates. By so doing you will avoid the rush at the change booths and mistakes will not be made.

THE GRAND STAND.

Every year there is more or less rush and jam at the grand stand. As a rule visitors desire to go to the grand stand in the afternoon, not only to see the races, but to rest and conserve their strength. The program in front of the big stand this year will be especially strong, both in races and special attractions. The gates will open by noon, and to insure yourself and lady a good seat, come early. The evening program in front of the stand will excel anything ever given in Ohio. The gates will open for the evening soon after six o'clock.

ONE THOUSAND AUTOMOBILES.

It is estimated that one thousand automobiles will be on the grounds every day. Hundreds of farmers will come from all parts of Ohio in machines. The big automobile show is attracting much attention. Only those who see it will be able to describe it. The best machines for farmer use will be a specialty. Those manufacturers who feel sure of the quality and utility of their machines will have them at the State Fair. Visitors who come in autos will be charged fifty cents admission for their machines, which will be parked and guarded while in the grounds by the National Guard police.

OLD SOLDIERS HONORED.

Two hundred boys from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Xenia, will go into camp during the entire week on the State Fair grounds. This will be a grand sight. The sons of old veterans will enjoy a trip and privilege never before granted. They will bring their own band of thirty pieces and favor the crowds with music that made their fathers defend the flag. Every soldier who can will be doubly glad to see this Junior Grand Army camping in the shadow of the Grant Cabin.

Farmers Are Crying 'Nuf But the Rains Continue

The cry of enough has been raised by the farmers since the weather man turned his sprinkling can upon this part of Ohio and has thoroughly drenched everybody and everything in a succession of hard showers and downpours during the past few days.

In some localities the water is standing shoe-top deep in the corn fields, and a little wind would lay the corn flat. The continued rains will have a tendency to postpone corn cutting several days, and brighten up the pastures and other fall crops. Right at the present time, however, the farmers would be glad to have the weather man put on the soft pedal in his damp application and wait until the State Fair is over, anyway.

FAMILY DINNER.

A family affair, greatly enjoyed by all the participants, was a dinner at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster, above Bloomingburg Sunday, in honor of Mr. Will Yeoman, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., who is visiting among a large family connection here.

Among relatives in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Yeoman, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Sollars, Mr. Estell Edwards and family, Miss Bertha Edwards, of this city, Mr. Elish Edwards and wife, Madison Mills; Mr. Clayte Edwards, sister Miss Alice and niece, Miss Ethel, Mr. I. N. Evans and family, Bloomingburg; Mr. Charles Altemang, Greenfield.

DOUBLE SORROW.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Dennis have the sympathy of many Washington friends in a double sorrow which is meeting them.

For some time Dr. Dennis' brother, Dr. Theodore Dennis and his wife, of Jamestown, have both been in failing health. On last Friday evening Dr. Dennis received word that both were in a critical condition. He left at once for Jamestown, his wife joining him there Sunday.

At five o'clock Sunday evening Mrs. Theodore Dennis passed away, a victim to uramic poisoning.

Dr. Dennis is still living but the news of his death is expected at any time.

The Soda Fountain Has Done Much Toward Helping the Temperance Cause

Within the last few years there has been hundreds of thousands of Soda Fountains built and put into service throughout the United States. During the same number of years there has been thousands and millions of people drinking these pure fruit juice beverages. Every year there are many more who join this happy and healthful band of Soda drinkers to quench their thirst, satisfy their appetites and relieve their hunger. Thousands who once drank Beer and Whisky and other intoxicants, now drink the unfermented fruit juice beverages, because they find there is no harm in them.

Thousands of towns and cities have driven the Saloon from their midst, but never has any prosperous city or town prohibited the sale of SODA WATER.

The Cozy Corner HAS A PERFECTLY SANITARY SODA FOUNTAIN AND SERVES ALL THE POPULAR PURE AND UNFERMENTED FRUIT JUICE SODAS. OUR SERVICE IS UNEXCELLED—OUR PARLOR IS CLEAN, NICELY FURNISHED, WELL VENTILATED AND PROPERLY KEPT.

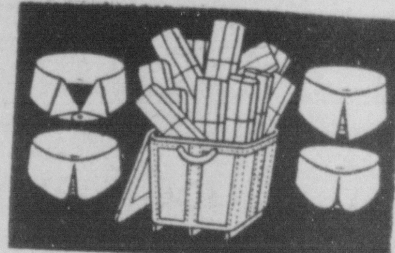

Then patronize the Soda Fountain—lend your influence to the Fountain Man and thus help build up and honest and harmless industry—one that will eventually stamp out the old booze habit and leave the country all drinking Pure Unfermented Fruit Juice Sodas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ellison gave a birthday party in honor of their little five year old son, Carl, at their home on S. Fayette street, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. His little guests numbering 18, were entertained with games on the lawn and a contest in the house, the prizes being won by Thomas Kinney and Janet Barger. Refreshments were served in the darkened dining room, with table prettily decorated with birthday cake, candles and flowers. The little guests brought several useful and pretty gifts. Mrs. Ellison was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Corbin and Mrs. R. B. Price.

LOSS OF TIME.

Kidney trouble and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Balent, 1214 Little Penna. St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills. Foley Kidney Pills will check the progress of your kidney and bladder trouble and heal by removing the cause. Try them. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Jam Hint
Jam should cool and a jelly form over the top and adhere to the glass all around the edge before pouring paraffin upon it. Otherwise the jam will shrink, leave a space between it and the paraffin, and fermentation more liable to occur, causing much labor and waste.

Spots on Linen
When your table linen or fine doilies become stained or spotted with anything that will not easily wash out, be sure to remove the spot before sending the linen to the laundry. Berry and fruit stains can be removed very easily by holding the cloth tightly over the top of a bowl and pouring boiling water very slowly through the mark until it disappears. Salt dampened with lemon juice laid on the spot and subjected to the hot sun will remove ink spots from linen. One of the hardest stains to take out of linen is that made by the lead of an indelible pencil. Great care must be taken to clean this kind of a spot or your linen will be ruined. Under no circumstances touch water to such a spot. Mix together 4 tablespoonsful of peroxide of hydrogen and 4 tablespoonsful of clear water. Lay the soiled spot over an old piece of linen folded to several thicknesses or over several thicknesses of white blotting paper and with a clean sponge or bit of clean linen sop the spot with the mixture and lay it in the direct rays of the sun. Repeat this process until the spot disappears and allow it to remain in the sun until it has bleached a pure white.

FOR PORCH ROCKER
For the porch rocker there is much that can be done in the line of embroidery, knowing that they have to be saved from the ravages of dust that seems to penetrate into the very heart of the woven mesh of the split willow.
The antimacassar can be utilized for this purpose, also making an addition of back and seat cloths to protect the part of the chair that comes in contact with our clothes when reposing comfortably within the expansive arms of this summer necessity.
One can make these antimacassars and chair cloths as simply or as elaborately as one desires, as it opens a field for the embroidery enthusiast that can run the whole gamut of the fancy as well as the simpler stitches. If one might choose to embroider in colors it is best to choose the soft shades of the higher colors so that there will be no indication of the degree of warmth that the full colors are so apt to impress.
Openwork is less to be desired than the blind embroidery, for should one choose to decorate these with the openwork there will be left a loophole, as it were, for the ever present dust to seep through and thus set at naught the full service for which these serviceable articles are actually intended.
As there is no rougher service to which an embroidered piece may be put, one can give way to the vagaries of one's imagination to an unwonted limitation by designing or sketching on these cloths whatever seems to them most weird and mythical, or by sopping out of story books such hobgoblins as strikes one's fancy.
The lighter shades of lavender and green are the colors that are most taking for this kind of work as they do not denote warmth as would the different shades of red or the other high colors, such as yellow or brown.
All of the stitches that you have so far learned can be applied in this work and one should not spare any efforts in doing one's best so that they will be admired by your callers.

MIDSUMMER BARGAINS.
"What are your wife's most extravagances?"
"Cheap midsummer bargains."

Had Met Before.
A young medical student came face to face with a dear, kind, fatherly looking gentleman, with white hair and of highly respectable appearance.
They both stood transfixed. The same idea flashed across both of them.
"Your face is familiar—very familiar; but I can't remember where we have met so often."
However the friendly impulse was carried out.
They shook hands warmly, partook of a friendly glass and departed, still ignorant of each other's name and occupation. But the young man was determined to solve the problem, and he seized on a waiter and said to him:
"Tell me, waiter, who is that distinguished stranger with the long white hair?"
And the waiter whispered slowly: "Please, sir, that's the pawnbroker."

Picnic Lemonade
Squeeze the juice of half a dozen lemons into a glass jar, add two cups of sugar, a little bit of this poured into a glass, and then filled with water will make a delicious glass of lemonade.

Potato Salad
Slice potatoes left over a meal-time, add a little salt and pepper, one onion cut up in small pieces, one-quarter teaspoonful of sugar, celery cut in small pieces when in season, when hot add one-quarter teaspoonful celery salt, one teaspoonful best olive oil, one thick slice of bacon fried until all fat is out of it, remove bacon, add vinegar while pot is hot; also add a little water; pour over salad while warm; add one fresh egg; stir up well; hard boiled egg may be added if desired.

CHAS. JOHNSON, Mgr.

The Meanest Man.
OLD MR. CRAB was not a philanthropic soul. If he wanted a thing, he generally found a way of making others pay for it. And it others wanted a thing, they could go on wanting, for all he cared.
But one warm June day his hard old spirit melted, and he fixed a wooden box outside his house, with "For He Blind" written across it. And he started the fund with a penny.
Other contributions followed swiftly. The sweet spirit of charity evoked itself in nearly all the passers-by, who dropped their offerings into the little box, while Mr. Crab watched them gratefully from the window. How they had all mistaken this good old man! How they had misjudged him!
Two days later the box was withdrawn.
"I see you have taken away your collecting box!" called one of the neighbors.
"Yes; I've got quite enough, thank you," replied the old man, pointing to the new striped sun-blind that had just been fixed to his window. "How do you think it looks?"

Secure.
Depositor—"Is this bank safe?"
Cashier—"Well, I can say that not a cent ever gets away from the directors."

Suckers!
Diner—"I thought you advertised that you were serving fish today?"
Waiter—"Well, I'm here for that purpose; what'll you have?"

Timely Warning.
"My friends," said the campaign orator, "beware of the unscrupulous briber. (Applause) There are men so lost to shame that they will offer you a shilling for your vote. (Hisses) Do not listen to them. Spurn them. Be on your dignity. Demand more." (Continued applause.)

Sad Mix-Up.
Mrs. Flatleigh—What made your cook leave so suddenly?
Mrs. Suburbs—She got her dates mixed.
Mrs. Flatleigh—How so?
Mrs. Suburbs—She had a policeman and a burglar call the same evening.

Crib Comforter
A dainty comforter was made by sewing handkerchiefs, suggesting children's stories, upon blue cheese-cloth leaving a two inch space and margin. Tack with blue zephyr and see how much pleasure your baby will derive. Any color scheme may be used.

Cherry Preserves
Wash cherries thoroughly, then remove seeds with new wire hairpin, so as not to crush cherries. Drain off every bit of the juice, let stand an hour or two, and drain again, so as to extract all the juice possible.
Make a sirup of two cups of sugar to one-half cup of water, cook until it hardens in water, then drop in the drained cherries, allowing one cup of fruit to one cup of sugar. Cook fifteen to twenty minutes. Put in jelly glasses, as they will keep without sealing. They are delicious and not dark or strong as cherry preserves so often are.

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWeese photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros. of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
